

Announcing a New Color Figure Policy

Starting in 1983 The Anatomical Record would like to offer its contributors the possibility of reduced color charges. The cost of printing up to four pages of color is now $2200. If contributors have a figure(s) to be printed in color and are willing to have it printed in a special color section in one issue per quarter, such figure(s) would be grouped with those of other contributors also wishing to reduce costs. This could result in the cost per contributor being as low as $550 for four contributions and not higher than $1100 per contributor for a minimum of two contributions. The color issues would be the March, June, September, and December issues each year. If you have a figure or figures you wish to have printed in color and want to take advantage of the possibility of reduced charges please indicate that when submitting your manuscript. If no other contributors have figures to be printed in color in the issue for which your article is scheduled, you will have the option of either paying the full color charge or of having your figures printed in black and white. All color figures will be grouped in one section in the issue and each page of color will be labeled a color plate. Figures from two different articles will not be grouped on the same page.
